India

Fresh water is very precious in India. There are many problems with water contamination here.

My family is lucky to live in a city with a town water supply and sewage system. We use about 130 litres per person, per day (L/pp/day). That is almost 1 full bathtub. People who live in the country or poorer areas in India have much less water available: about 55 litres per person, per day (L/pp/day)

Water supply and access

94%

94% of people in India have a safe drinking water supply.
